[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

The State Department Has Taken Measures to Get the Exact Facts. WASHINGTON, August 31st .- The State Department has taken measures to secure all particulars of the shooting of General Barrundia on board the American vessel lying in the port of San Jose by the officers of the Guatemalan Government, and until the exact facts and circumstances con-occurred in Nicaragua in 1885, and in that case Secretary Bayard informed our Min-ister to Central America that the Nicaraguans had a right to take the man wanted from an American merchant vessel, pro vided she was in Nicaraguan waters. The case was that of Jose Gomez.

In a letter dated Guatemala, February 10, 1885, Minister Hall informed Secretary relinghuysen that he had been informed that the Guatemalan Government proposed to take from on board the Pacific Mail steamer Honduras, then lying in San Juan del Sur, a passenger named Gomez in transit for Panama, but wanted in Nicaragua to sit for Panama, but wanted in Nicaragua to with sixteen prisoners. The case came before the State Department in this way, and it held that the Minister had not acted according to law. In his letter to the Minister, which is dated March 12, 1885, Secretary Bayard says: "It appears that Gomez voluntarily took passage on the vessel, knowing it would enter en route a Nicar-aguan port. It can safely be affirmed when a merchant vessel of one country visits the port of another for the purpose of trade, it owes temporary allegiance, and is amenable to the jurisdiction of that country, and is subject to the laws which govern the port it visits, so long as is remains, unless otherity is the fact that a large portion of the foreclosures are on unoccupied lands, bought up and mortaged for what they would bring by speculation.

FIGHT TO A FINISH

Brennan. MEMPHIS (Tenn.). August 31st.-Tomm anforth of Streator, Illinois, and Redd Brennan of Memphis fought a finish fight to-day with two-ounce gloves, for a purse will yet have to use 100 cars a week of California fruit, is on the road to realization men entered the ring weighing 128 pounds each. Brennan looked like a racehorse, not having an ounce of superfluous flesh, while Danforth looked heavy and fat, and it was evident that he lacked training. Eight rounds were fought, and although Danforth seemed the most scientific man, et Brennan secured the first knock-down in the first round and first blood in the sec-ond. The Memphis man fought cautiously and on the defensive up to the last round, evidently saving himself and trying to wind his opponent, and receiving severe punishment from Danforth's heavy right,

PLACER COUNTY. The District Fair to Open on Tuesday-Heavy Fruit Shipments. [Auburn Hera'd, August 30th ]

All arrangements are about completed or the Second Annual District Fair, which opens in Auburn next Tuesday, September 2d. The large number of applications for stalls at the Park and the great rush for space in the Pavilion go to show that the exhibition will be far more extensive than it was a year ago, and a year ago everybody who attended pronounced it the finest country display they had ever witnessed. A number of new box and open stalls have been built at the Park and the new Pavil-ion is immensely larger than the one used last year, and yet the indications are that there will not be a single stall too many or an inch of space too much.

allowed for its consideration That such action was disgraceful to the Kingdom, and that the King was driven to approve the present Constitution under threats that left him no resort but submission. That the present Constitution limits the suffrage right and the rights of the crown to an extent subversive of good government. That it is also objectionable in many other respects, as it endangers peace, checks labor and infringes upon personal checks labor and infringes upon persons liberty to an unwarranted extent.

The whole proceeding appears to have been within the law and the right of petition, and while it is true that it contemplates radical reform of the substruc tural laws of the Kingdom, we cannot discover that the agitation is at all likely to involve the Islands in civil war, unless, indeed, the Legislature treats the petition with such contempt as to greatly anger the petitioners, who appear to represent a considerable body of the Hawaiian people and who are of a class entitled to respect.

As to what the Legislative Council will do with the petition is in doubt. The reference to a committee has been made, and while the Advertiser thinks the Constitution will be amended so as to answer satisfactorily the objections to property qualifications for electors in choosing nobles, the Gazette thinks nothing will be done and that the conservative element in the Council will defeat any attempt to amend the Constitution, and that there the matter will end.

BEATING THE TOM-TOMS. The San Francisco Examiner has not yet discovered that the Eastern Democratic and Mugwump press have ceased to shout about the ruling of Speaker Reed. It fairly bares its arms in a recent issue to the task of showing the readers of its columns that an awful crime was committed by the Republican majority in the House in sustaining the Speaker, and therefore the Republican ticket in California should be defeated and the chosen of Boss Buckley put into the seats of authority.

My belief in God personally has been deepened and become more of a conscious realization, and my fest nearness to Him has, I think, been sensibly increased. This I take to be the chief mark of improvement in our individual personal religion. The great error of Adam and Eve was in gettin gaway from God. Our religious work is to get back to Him, and as near to Him as possible, so that He should be the very life of cur souls. In proportion as we realize that nearness we can't go wrong. To be thus led by the spirit of God is the way of holiness among men on earth and a foretaste of heaven.

The piece is not announced as noteworthy addition to dramatic literature, but that it is meant to amuse. The play is said to be a sort of composite of the ideas of Lotta's "Pawn Ticket," "The Shadows of a Great City," and similar productions of the mixed comedy and melo-dramaorder; but with more of sparkle and romp and wit about it.

The other part of our text is, "Take heed how ye hear." Good listning is, perhaps, as rare as good speaking. I never witnessed but one scene where there seemed to be absolute and intense listening, that was in the United States Senate, when one of our country's greatest statesmen where there seemed to be absolute and intense listening, that was in the United States Senate, when one of our country's greatest statesmen was addressing the United State Senate on the more of the North and South that endured for a time, while it was not a fundamental settlement. The speaker, in his profound insight into the genesis of our government, in his familiarity with our history from his long experience in public service and his active participation in the discussion of all the leading questions of public administration, foresaw the coming storm of discussion of all the leading questions of public administration, foresaw the coming storm of debate, and Senators and Representatives listened as if the fate of this great republic hung upon the utterance of Mr. Webster's lips. I secured a standing place a few feet outside the door, and could hear. There was no noise, absolute stillness.

I campot expressive voice melted at times into mere shadows of sound.

Miss O. C. Allen, of San Francisco, executed a brilliant polonnaise by Chopin upon the piano. Miss Anna Nicholson, of Sausalito, recited "Lasca," and de'ighted the audience with her remarkably fine elocutionary talent. As an encore she recited a humorous piece, entitled "Taking the Census."

The second part of the programme, in which most of the artists reappeared, was greeted with the same degree of enthusiasm. Rarely has Sausalito, or any other inchness and remarkable flexibility. countrymen with each other, to establish peace between the North and the South. I am speaking upon the matter of lar deeper interest to each of us—the reconciliation of man with God; of peace between heaven and earth.

When our Savior uttered these words of our text, He had just illustrated by a parable the fact that much that is said to people on the subject of religion has little influence. It is like seed sown by the wayside when the birds pick it up for food, or like seed fallen upon rocky ground, where there is no depth of soil or among thorns, where the wild growth chokes the growth of what you sow. Out of four sowings, according to our Savior's illustrations, only one takes root and prospers.

One is much more likely to be benefited by what he hears in public discourses if one has previously studied and thought upon the subject. If one read a page or paragraph in a book, and some parts strike the mind with some special force, one can turn back and reread. But not so in hearing public disc urses—the speaker goes right on, and you must take in the meaning as the speaker proceeds, or not at all. This was a great advantage enjoyed by the Senator. The subject of his speech had been before the public mind for weeks and months; every newspaper had discussed it, and everybody was somewhat familiar with the reasoning on both sides of the subject, and now the question was. What will this expounder of the Constituboth sides of the subject, and now the question was, What will this expounder of the Constitution say upon this subject? So pecple were prepared to listen to that speech. In like manner, if we have made the great and important is shining too brightly for men to say they do not believe. There is too much knowledge now abroad for people to say we do not know. It is too late a day for so-called philosophers to call themselves Agnostics—know nothings; that the essentials of religion are beyond the sphere of human knowledge. Too many good, sound-minded men and women do know whom they have believed, in whom they are trusting. There is now no excuse. The true light is now shining. All who have eyes are responsible for seeing and obeying the truth of the gospel.

Professor Barker and Others Give Concert at Sausalito. A correspondent of the RECORD UNION, writing from Sausalito under date of August 30th, gives the following account of a concert given there for the benefit of the Episcopal Church at that place: A very large audience gathered last Thursday evening at Sausalito Hall to hear

"Dors Be Be" on the mandolin in a masterly way, and for an encore gave a polka with guitar accompaniment. Miss Maud E Noyes was enthusiastically greeted when she made her bow before the audience to sing "Si To Maiais," which was sung with her usual sweetness and expresdoor, and could hear. There was no noise, absolute stillness.

I cannot expect that any words of mine shall ever receive the attention which that day was given to the words of the renowned Senator. Yet all the while I am speaking upon a subject of graver and more solemn interest than that which was the theme of the Senator's discussion. He was endeavoring to reconcile his fellow countrymen with each other, to establish peace between the North and the South. I am speaking upon a subject of Professor A. C. Barker, who conceived and carried it out within a few days afterwards.

THIRTY YEARS' PRACTICE

A Letter from an Eminent Physician. MR. EDITOR: At the risk of indorsing & proprietary preparation, I have a few words in favor of a new laxative principle. But first, how I came to discover it. A patient asked about taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. As sarsaparillas usually contain mercury or iodides I objected, and asked for the formula, which finding purely vegetable, and so mild as to be to my mind almost inert, I consented. Imagine my astonishment when perfect laxative action was reported. It has two great points. First, being

The riflemen took the tourists off the train by force, notwithstanding the fact that a committee was already here from San Francisco to prepare them for a big reception upon their arrival at home. Jacoby and Utschig were whisked off in carriages, and immediately entered upon a continuous round of pleasure.

We shall endeavor to continue the success of our past Openings by making on this occasion a more striking display than any in times past. We have received a very large collection of Pattern Bonnets, also Shapes, Silks, Ribbons, Breasts, Wings and Feathers in the new colors. This season Grays will play an important part in Millinery, also yellow and black combinations. The chief surprises, however, are the introduction of Amethyst and Turquoise Blue. The sudden demand in New York for Turquoise Blue has made it a very difficult color to obtain, and we deem ourselves fortunate in being able to supply it so liberally.

As an additional attraction to the Opening, we are preparing a decorative feature, which in itself will be well worth a visit to see.

TO-DAY will also be made the occasion for showing beautiful new things in Jackets, Cloaks and Dress Goods. Our large triple show window contains at present perhaps the largest and finest collection of Imported Dress Patterns ever shown in Sacramento.

Openings are specially for seeing, and we invite every one to come, whether they come to buy or not.

WEATHER FORECASTS.

Sacramento City.

They will be Sent to Various Points Daily by Telegraph.

Signal Observer Barwick, in charge of the Sacramento Signal Office, has received the following circular from Lieutenant Davis, Miss Ettle Davis, Miss Etlla M Davis, Mrs Carrie R cific, San Francisco. It will be found of interest to interior cities and towns:

For the wider dissemination of the weather forecast made at this office, the Chief Signal Officer at Washington has authorized the furnog of daily telegraphic messages of weather temperature to certain selected points in 1. It is intended to inaugurate this service on ember 1, 189), or as soon thereafter as possible.

2. Only one warning will be sent daily to any point. Forecasts are made twice daily at this office and are delivered at the Western Union telegraph office in this city, ready to be wired at 945 A. M. and 645 F. M.

3. Each place must elect to receive either the morning or evening forecast, but change can be made from one to the other, upon properly notifying this office of the desire to make such 4. Telegraphic forecasts will only be sent at

4. Telegraphic forecasts will only be sent at Government expense over the lines of the Western Union Telegraph Company, as it will be impracticable to authorize more than one tariff to any point, in view of the large number of applicants for weather reports, and the limited appropriation available for telegraphing them. If it becomes necessary to arrange for the transmiss on of the messages over the lines of any other telegraph company, the expense for the same must be defrayed by the persons receiving the message. 5. Flags used for signal displays are fully desoribed in the inclosed circular. Owing to the fact that the Signal Service has no appropriation for the purchase of weather and temperature signal flags, it will be necessary for all persons using such means of display, to furnish persons using such means of display, to furnish the material at their own expense. The inclosed circular gives the address of manufacturers in this city and elsewhere, from whom the necessary outfit can be purchased.

6. Telegraphic forecasts will only be sent at Government expense to such persons as will furnish the necessary flags and display them for the benefit of the public. This is the policy of the Chief signal Omeer, who has determined that by the display of weather signals the forecasts are brought more prominently before the public than if posted in bulletin form. Many enterprising business firms are willing to per form this work gratuitously, in return for any form this work grauthously, in return for any additional publicity that may be afforded them in this connection, besides procuring the flags and ren fering monthly reports.
